

Four-Year-Old Murder Mystery Revived With Mrs. Hall's Arrest

JERSEY JUSTICE will soon decide whether Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall is to be tried for the murder of her husband and Mrs. Eleanor Mills. The grand jury will meet in the courthouse above. The slain preacher and his wife are also shown. (Photo Graphic.)

MRS. HALL'S NEMESIS.

Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," shown above in exclusive photo, taken yesterday, with her 3-year-old baby, will repeat testimony incriminating Mrs. Hall she gave in original investigation. (Photo Graphic.)

"I'M SORRY FOR HER"

Charlotte Mills, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, slain choir singer, feels pity in her heart for Mrs. Hall, who is in jail, charged with the murder of Mrs. Mills and the Rev. Hall. (Photo Graphic.)
